

Chute and head gate

2-way exit gate
sheep goes into headgate
or into small extension to jug

Barn Setup at Critterhaven

Right side of building houses hay and grain. Left side is open feeding area.

There are two lambing jugs alongside the outer walls; gate 2 can be left open, making the area larger when necessary. This jug area also serves as a chute leading to the headgate.

To squeeze the flock, I close Gate 2 and release individual sheep either into the headgate or into a small outside run. Currently, the run is enclosed with a wire panel but I will rebuild it soon with wood.
